

Welcome to Clubhouse Magazine

Welcome to Clubhouse Magazine, an exhaustive guide to many of the best courses in Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. Inside you will find capsule features on some of the layouts you love most. You might even find a hidden gem you didn't know existed.

Beginning on page 14 you'll find a handy directory of courses, resorts and practice facilities in the region. Need a phone number, web address or quick synopsis of a particular layout? We've already done the homework for you.

Clubhouse is published by Tee Time Golf Pass which has grown to nearly 900 courses in 13 states since it was founded in 1993. Already the premier golf passbook program in the Mid-Atlantic, Tee Time expanded its reach to the midwest in 2008 with the introduction of the Tee Time Ohio/Western PA Golf Pass. This new passbook, now referred to as the Midwest Tee Time Golf Pass, has grown by leaps and bounds.

The 2011 Midwest pass includes a record 312 courses. Sixty new facilities were added this year alone. The pass now covers the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton, Akron, Canton, Toledo, Youngstown and Erie PA areas. It also touches into Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan with these states targeted for future growth of our product.

The Tee Time Golf Pass not only offers an unprecedented collection of the best courses in the region, but it also offers the best deals of any passbook program. The 2001 Midwest pass features 186 partner courses that offer Tee Time members FREE PLAYS — complimentary rounds that require a standard cart fee only. Just as impressively is the fact that over 85 percent of the courses now offer weekend discounts.

Again, thank you for picking up a copy of Clubhouse. We hope you enjoy it. And if you would like more information about Tee Time Golf Pass, please call our office at 1-800-444-9203 or visit us online at www.TeeTimeGolfPass.com.

Cooks Creek Serves Up a Delectable Round

by BUD KEY

Cooks Creek whisks players on an unbelievable journey that tests not only one's shot-making ability, but their ingenuity and competitive fire as well. Located 25 minutes south of Columbus, OH, the premier upscale daily course sets the bar for what great public golf can be when done right.

Rated four-and-a-half stars by Golf Digest, the sprawling layout in Ashville is bordered by Little Walnut Creek and the Scioto River. Bent grass tees, fairways and greens glide effortlessly across the property which is as much wildlife preserve as it is golf course. In fact, the site is certified as an Audubon Sanctuary while also serving as a rookery for Blue Herons.

Just don't let the serenity of Cooks Creek lull you into complacency. Because while the layout was cleverly crafted to accommodate a wide variety of players, it is every bit as tough as the courses the pros play each week. So bring your "A" game and don't even think about teeing it up from the Cook-Black tees (7,071 yards/73.3/131) unless you're kin to, well, the co-designer.

Cooks Creek is a collaboration between architects Dr. Michael Hurdzan and Dana Fry, along with PGA TOUR and now Champions Tour regular, John Cook. In fact, the course is built on river bottom land that was originally owned by the Cook family.

The par-72 layout is routed through a series of mature tree stands, ravines and rolling terrain, with several holes laying sensitively among protected wetlands. There are few if any unnatural distractions to be found -- unless, of course, you count the 76 intricately patterned and often penal sand bunkers located near the landing zones along the fairways or greenside.

Golfers will no doubt appreciate the great variety in hole design and wonderful shot values. That the course is immaculately maintained to championship standards only adds to the overall experience. But perhaps best of all is that a round of golf, here, won't cost you an arm and dog-leg. This may well be the best golfing value in all of Ohio.

The amenities are first-class, as well. Cooks Creek features a full practice facility with putting/chipping greens, short game area with sand bunker, and a targeted grass range. The clubhouse includes a fully-stocked pro shop, bar and lounge with outdoor patio plus banquet facilities that can accommodate up to 200 guests.

But it's the opportunity to play what has been recognized as one of Ohio's highest rated public golf courses that draws folks from near and far.

From the start, Dr. Hurzan, Fry and Cook set out to design a layout that would be prototype of what new golf course architecture should strive to be: aesthetically beautiful, technically challenging, yet fair to play for all skill levels. All three goals were achieved.

From the back tees, there are drives most weekend amateurs just aren't capable of pulling off. But move up a set or two and landing areas become much wider and accessible. Water comes into play on 12 holes, but much of it is pushed to the perimeters. There are a few forced carries, but most of the trouble is out of play from the shorter tee areas.

The green complexes at Cooks Creek are simply spectacular. And a little daunting at first sight. Most are protected by mounds, sand traps and grassy swales. But again, there is generally sufficient room for up and down recovery shots. And the greens themselves, while very large and extremely quick, are generally mild in undulation which helps keep three putts in check.

A lot of courses like to hang their caps on one particular signature hole. Well, Cooks Creek has 18 of them. All of the par 3s are fantastic, particularly Nos. 6 and 15 which have water hazards in play. The 533-yard, par-5 No. 10 is perhaps the toughest challenge. It is played from a series of bluffs down to a stunning target green protected by a creek filled with tall native grasses. But again, there simply is not a weak link to be found here. Every hole has its own unique character.

For those who want to treat themselves to a taste of championship caliber golf, Cooks Creek may just be the closest they ever come to stepping inside the ropes. And even if you trip a few times, the experience will be worth every second of it.

Seven Great Reasons to Live and Play in the Columbus area

If you live or play in the Columbus area, count yourself lucky. Thanks to Columbus Municipal Golf, a division of the city's recreation and parks, golfers can enjoy seven public courses that offer a variety of locations, prices and challenges without the use of tax dollars. If only the folks in Washington, DC, could figure out how to run the rest of our country's programs so efficiently.

The mission of CMG is four fold: to operate and maintain the best-conditioned courses; to provide the best customer service; to offer a variety of affordable golfing opportunities for all ages and abilities; and to preserve valuable green space areas.

While the division meets these objectives with aplomb, it should also be noted that the CMG does something else very well, too — it makes golf fun. From hosting tournaments and special events to developing special programs for junior golfers and seniors, the folks who work at the courses and behind the scenes genuinely seem to care and take great pride in their facilities.

Here's a quick rundown of the courses:

Opened in 1966, Airport Golf Course is a wonderful Jack Kidwell-designed layout bordering Big Walnut Creek. The 6,288-yard, par-70 course tickles the senses with mature tree-lined fairways, strategically placed water hazards and a unique parade of aircraft courtesy of the Port Columbus International Airport.

Nestled next to Easton Town Center on the northeast side of Columbus and inside the I-270 outerbelt, Champions Golf Course consistently finds itself ranked as one of central Ohio's most challenging public layouts. Designed by the legendary Robert Trent Jones, Sr., the par-70 layout with its rolling fairways, old hardwoods, demanding doglegs and undulating greens plays much longer than the 6,555 yards listed on the scorecard.

At Mentel Memorial Golf Course, another great Kidwell design, players will find great turf, wide tree-lined fairways, three large lakes and more than 40 strategically placed bunkers. The new 20,000 sq. ft. clubhouse offers amenities that easily rival most posh private clubs.

Raymond Memorial Golf Course has earned a coveted four-and-a-half stars from Golf Digest. It, too, was designed by the elder Jones over 50 years ago. The layout includes a rarity of sorts — twin par 3 holes that parallel each other. The idea behind this feature was to allow play to move more quickly by allowing faster players to advance ahead of slower four-somes. Players will also find large and severely sloped greens which run from back to front, as well as two or more greenside bunkers on every hole.

Bordering Blacklick Creek, Turnberry Golf Course is a Arthur Hills-designed championship layout patterned after the classic links-style clubs "across the pond." The course has it all (except the bagpipes) — small elevated greens, high fescue grasses, several lakes, and deep bunkers.

Walnut Hill Golf Course was established in 1974 with limited support from the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund. This beautiful nine-hole course located just minutes from I-70 and I-270 is a popular choice for leagues as well as nearby colleges and high schools. Rolling hills, mature trees and a friendly staff make it one of area's most popular tracks with over 24,000 rounds played there each year.

Wilson Road Golf Course the Columbus area's only executive nine-hole course. It features six par 3s and three par 4s with a creek meandering its way through the tree-lined fairways. Two ponds also bring water into play on this great family golf course.

Buttermilk Falls

Brown County OH

The 3,000-yard Buttermilk Falls course was designed by the legendary Jack Kidwell in 1981. Situated on top of a hill, the nine-holer presents a spectacular view of the City of Georgetown below.

The course is challenging for golfers of all abilities. Think groves of hardwoods line the fairways and water hazards come into play on seven of holes. Despite its setting, the course is mostly flat except for a couple of holes that have slightly undulating fairways.

Affordably priced, Buttermilk Falls offers players a sporty layout that can be played at a good pace. Locals love the place and especially the fairways which are among the best around.

The course is named after a nearby waterfall that rises more than 50 feet.

White Oak

Brown County OH

White Oak offers players 18 unique and challenging holes all within a short drive of Cincinnati and 20 minutes east of East Gate Mall. Subtle elevation changes will leave you with difficult shots throughout the course as you weave through tree-lined fairways with incredible views of the property's three man-made lakes. It's a golfing experience you will not soon forget.

Built in 1973, the hilly layout measures nearly 6,600 yards from the back tees and plays to a par of 71.

The top handicap hole is No. 10, a 406-yard par 4 with a forced carry over water off the tee.

White Oak gives players a chance to score well early, opening with a relatively straight 322-yard par 4 followed by a short 420-yard par 5. The third hole, a par 4 of only 283 yards, can also yield a birdie as long as you avoid the water hazard just to the front right of the green.

Hemlock Springs

Ashtabula County OH

Just a short drive from Cleveland, Hemlock Springs' spectacular layout was designed by Ben Zink. Opened in 1961, the 6,820-yard course was carved out of beautiful rolling terrain with six lakes and two streams coming into play. The current course record holder is 1999 British Open champion, Ben Curtis, with a round of 65.

As a testimony to its magnificent layout and conditioning, Hemlock Springs has hosted the prestigious U.S. Amateur Qualifier as well as 13 consecutive Cleveland Browns-United Way Celebrity Golf Tournaments.

Springs is the 193-yard No. 11 which requires a tee shot over a pond to a green protected by a pair of bunkers in front. The hole has been rated the third best par 3 in Northeast Ohio by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The front nine rolls across open parkland while the back is much narrower and heavily wooded. Members refer to holes 10-13 as "Amen Corner Midwest." Water hazards can spell trouble on eight holes.

The signature hole at Hemlock

The bent grass greens deserve special mention. All you have to do is pick the right line and let gravity do the rest. The attractive green fee rates at Hemlock Springs make a round here that much more enjoyable.

Legendary Run

Clermont County OH

Set on 200 acres and featuring six lakes, Legendary Run's front nine was inspired by the great Scottish links and features holes with such names as "Troon," "St. Andrews" and "Turnberry." The back nine winds through the woods with holes influenced by such classic American standards as Augusta National, Winged Foot and Shinnecock.

it's little wonder why the facility sits at the top of the leaderboard.

Rated four-and-a-half stars by Golf Digest and widely considered the top daily-fee course in the greater Cincinnati area, Legendary Run might just be architect Arthur Hills' best layout. It's that good. Add to that the friendliest service you'll find anywhere, country club type amenities and an affordable rate structure and Stretching nearly 7,000 yards, Legendary Run offers 18 distinct "snap shots" of some of golf's most hallowed design themes. Fairways tuck and roll as they maneuver towards elevated green complexes protected by soft sand bunkers, grassy mounds and knolls, and closely cropped runoff areas.

Water comes into play on 10 holes including all five par 3s (after 18 holes golfers can play the short par-3 19th hole as a bonus). Stately trees define some holes while others are played in the open bringing wind into the equation.

In short, Legendary Run is the type of course that makes golfers remember why they love the game so much.

EXPERIENCE PERFECTION

ON AND OFF THE COURSE

Pebble Creek is a beautiful and challenging eighteen hole championship golf course featuring a full-service Pro Shop, Sports Bar Restaurant and Banquet Facility. Whether you are attending Pebble Creek for a tee time, dinner at the restaurant, your golf outing, your wedding reception or corporate event, Pebble Creek strives to provide you with the most absolute enjoyable experience possible.

Pebble Creek Golf Course was built on the ridges and valleys in Colerain Township and features bent grass tees, fairways and greens. Seven water hazards come into play and provide the challenge of several risk-reward holes. Course management is a must. Long anticipation awaits you on #16 where the 135 to 175 yard par 3 with an island green is a true test of skill. Together, with an exciting and challenging layout, a first-class banquet facility and friendly customer service, Pebble Creek is perfect for any corporate outing of any size.

Pebble Creek Event Center is a three-story southern plantation like building surrounded by two levels of veranda. The backdrop of this charming structure is the beautiful golf course. All four banquet spaces access the breathtaking views.

River Oaks*Crawford County OH*

River Oaks traces its origin to 1925 when the course was constructed as a nine-hole private golf club. Oldtimers whisper that the layout was designed by an old Scotsman but there is no actual proof it was, well, the Scotsman. Either way, the scenic layout does share many of the same characteristics associated with legendary architect Donald Ross.

The club was run as a member-owned golf facility until 1992 when nine new holes were added. At the time, the former Bucyrus Country Club catered to members but was also made available for public play. This operating philosophy continues today.

In March 2003, a new ownership group took over and the course was renamed River Oaks.

The 6,350-yard, par-72 layout runs along parts of the Sandusky River and offers players a nice, relaxed pace of play. When the new nine holes were constructed, they were blended in with the original design. So players constantly get looks at varied hole types.

StoneWater Golf ClubCuyahoga County OH*

If you need any indication of the challenge that awaits at StoneWater consider this: no fewer than 23 wooden bridges were built to help golfers navigate their way around the course.

Carved through 178 acres of wooded wetlands, the Dr. Michael Hurdzan/Dana Fry-designed layout features water on 16 of the 18 holes. Filter in 70 or so of the largest and most dramatic sand hazards this side of the Sahara desert and you've got a course that will no doubt stir the spirits.

The course gets its name from the rocks that line the tee boxes, creeks and ponds. Since opening in 1996, StoneWater has garnered both regional and national attention including being listed among the "Top 30 Public Access Courses in the Country" by Golf Digest. The upscale facility also hosted the Nationwide Tour's Legend Group

Classic in 2005 and '06.

In a series of great holes, several stand out. The 201-yard No. 3 is one of the most difficult par 3s you'll ever encounter. The tee shot must carry water nearly the entire way. The back nine includes the 626-yard, par-5 No. 13. If length alone wasn't enough, the hole features two wetland areas that push out from the rough into the fairway. Thick trees line both sides so there's little room for error.

Snow Hill Country ClubClinton County OH*

Snow Hill Country Club is a semi-private facility with a full-service restaurant and banquet room. Guests are invited to enjoy the facility's 180-year-old clubhouse and play its challenging, naturally-adapted golf course. The club's history and hospitality are sure to capture your heart.

The 6,449-yard, par-70 course has been home to many PGA events over the last 90 years and has been blessed by world-class golf professionals such as Tommy Bolt. Snow Hill currently hosts the Greater Cincinnati PGA Pro-Am each summer.

The layout was reworked by architect Dennis Acomb in 1990. Still, it remains a shot placement course because of the small undulating greens. The fairways are mostly wide open with water hazards coming into play on nine holes.

One word of caution: the clubhouse, which once operated a tavern, is reported to be haunted.

Gahanna Municipal*Franklin County OH*

Operated by the City of Gahanna Department of Parks and Recreation, this short nine-hole course is a local favorite. Greenside bunkers, tree-lined fairways and water on five of the holes adds a fair degree of challenge. Still, it remains very playable for novice golfers.

Playing just over 3,000 yards, Gahanna has the pedigree of a champion. It was designed in 1970 by Jack Kidwell and later spruced up by Dr. Michael Hurdzan — two very well-known and successful golf architects.

Beavercreek*Greene County OH*

Nestled amongst woods and meandering streams, Beavercreek ranks as one of Ohio's best public golf facilities. The club has a private club feel to it, due in part to the sprawling clubhouse which includes a fully-stocked pro shop, grille and a beautifully appointed banquet facility.

Rated four-and-a-half stars by Golf Digest, the layout was designed by PGA TOUR and now Champions Tour professional Fuzzy Zoeller. It stretches more than 7,000 yards from the back tees as it winds through more than 350 acres of rolling terrain.

The course is not easy. Far from it. But the layout and surroundings are so beautiful no one really cares. Holes 2 and 3, for example, feature parallel fairways split by a creek that flows through a series of small pools created by dams — hence the layout's name.

Located about 45 minutes from both Cincinnati and Columbus, this is a must-play course for anyone who takes their game seriously.

Indianbrook Golf Club*Hancock County OH*

The recently renamed Indianbrook Golf Club (formerly Fostoria CC) dates back nearly a century. Originally built in 1916 as a nine-hole facility, the course was redesigned and expanded to its current 18-hole configuration in the 1940s by legendary architect Jack Kidwell. Today, the club offers all the bells and whistles but retains a certain old-world charm.

Now open for public play, Indianbrook moves almost effortlessly over 170 acres of rolling terrain. The 5,662-yard layout is highlighted by tree-lined fairways, scenic water crossings and just enough hazards to inspire even the most seasoned players.

The 570-yard No. 12 is one of the toughest par 5s in Ohio. The tree-lined fairway makes an abrupt turn to the right about 150 yards from the green. A thin gauntlet of short grass runs up to the target with water pinching both sides. The greenside bunker on the left side is actually not a bad place to put your approach.

Valley View

Fairfield County OH

Nicknamed "The View" by local golfers, Valley View was built nearly 60 years ago among mature trees and rolling hills. The course offers a perfect blend of challenges that make it a fun layout to play for both weekend duffers and accomplished golfers, alike.

cially true at No. 17 where a lake guards the green.

Fairways at Valley View are top notch and kept cut low to allow maximum roll. But you'll want to keep your ball straight off the tee since trees line just about every corridor. The front nine offers gently sloping terrain while the back is more hilly. Still, there are some good birdie opportunities to be found for those who keep the ball in the short stuff.

Measuring 6,241 yards from the back tees, the par-71 course was designed in 1952 by Bill George using the natural terrain. As an interesting note, it was built over the first road constructed in Ohio and a monument still stands to mark the place today.

The course offers many scenic vistas including an awesome panoramic view when you step out of your car. But a word of warning. Don't let the incredible scenery distract you from the task at hand. This is espe-

Wicked Woods

Geauga County OH

Wicked Woods, located in the heart of Geauga County, continues to be one of northeast Ohio's best-kept secrets. The layout features rolling hills and vast breathtaking vistas. There are many elevated tees and greens with three-lined fairways that make this course a challenge for all skill levels.

At a modest 6,490 yards, Wicked Woods was designed with shot makers in mind. Distance off the tee is not nearly as important as your ability to navigate around the many hazards. A hot putter is also needed as the undulating greens run fast.

Designed by Z & S Construction, Wicked Woods made its debut in 1991. Locals who play there often describe the course as tough but fun. The hilly nature can create some difficult lies, especially on approach shots.

Wicked Woods takes great pride in the conditioning of its course. Customer service is second to none. The snack bar also serves the best hotdog you'll find this side of Coney Island.

Wyandot Golf Club

Knox County OH

Located just outside of Centerburg, Wyandot was designed by Noah Salyer in 1978. It's not the longest or most difficult course on the block, but it sure is the friendliest.

Owners Steve and Debra Arter dote on their course like proud parents. And for good reason. Wyandot has so many great little touches and nuances that you can't help but fall in love with the place.

The layout measures just over 6,400 yards and features enough twists and turns to keep players on their toes. Number 14 is a great short par 4 played to an island-type green.

Weatherwax Golf Course

A Course with a View

Located just west of the City of Middletown, this beautifully designed Arthur Hills championship golf course is situated atop the green rolling hills of southwestern Ohio.

While you play your round you can enjoy the many splendid views of the hills, trees and countryside from any location on the course.

Each of the four nine-hole courses will challenge golfers of all levels. The bent grass tees and fairways, four sets of tees, long and short par 3s, 4s and 5s make up the character of the four layouts. Sprinkled throughout are ponds, creeks, large sand bunkers, ravines, and small and large trees.

Come and enjoy your golf with us!

A City of Middletown Recreational Facility

It's Great (Golf) Outdoors in Hamilton County

The Hamilton County Park District oversees 21 parks spanning more than 16,000 acres of green space. Fishing, camping, hiking and water sports are just a few of the many outdoor activities the agency promotes. Thankfully, the HCPD also has a passion for golf.

Each of the park district's seven golf facilities features a full-service pro shop. And each is operated by a staff of PGA professionals dedicated to growing the game. From junior programs to hosting tournaments and outings, the HCPD goes out of its way to make sure folks in the greater Cincinnati area have every opportunity to snag that elusive birdie or par.

Located on the banks of the Little Miami River, the aptly named Little Miami Golf Center offers a full length nine-hole course, the park district's only Par 3 nine-hole layout, a 23-station driving range and an 18-hole miniature golf course.

The regulation course stretches nearly 3,000 yards and offers tree-lined fairways that play to small greens. The signature hole is No. 2, a par 5 that measures just under 600 yards. Adding to the difficulty is that, more times than not, the hole plays squarely into the prevailing wind. The par-4, 400-yard No. 4 is no pushover, either. The tee shot has to be placed perfectly to have a clear approach to the green.

The Par 3 layout at Little Miami was built by the HCPD in 2005. Holes vary from 70 to 158 yards.

Meadows Links & Golf Academy features a nine-hole executive layout designed by Dr. Michael Hurdzan. Named one of America's top short layouts by Golf Range Magazine, the 2,110-yard par 31 is ideal for beginners or those just looking to get in a quick nine. The facility also includes a 39-station covered and heated driving range and a natural turf practice area.

The par-3 No. 7 is the signature hole at Meadows Links. The tee shot is played downhill and measures a challenging 168 yards. The par-4 No. 6 presents a tough approach shot to an elevated green. The layout ends with a beautiful par 4 of only 303 yards. The tee shot is played over a pond to a narrow fairway. Big hitters can go for the green in one but do so at their own peril.

Miami Whitewater Forest Golf Course, often referred to as the "links by the lake," is a favorite for many Tri-state golfers. The 6,780-yard layout was designed and built by the HCPD in 1962. The course hosted the 2010 U.S. Public Links Qualifier and has also received a coveted four-star rating from Golf Digest.

Poised along the park's 85-acre lake, players have the opportunity to see plenty of wildlife during their round. But don't let the scenic beauty distract you from the task at hand. Miami Whitewater Forest requires plenty of muscle to navigate.

The signature hole is No. 9, a 512-yard par 5 which brings the course's namesake into play on the approach shot. It plays relatively short when compared to No. 5, which can be stretched to more than 650 yards if the greenskeeper is having a bad day. But both of these pale in difficulty to the 451-yard, par-4 No. 11. A water hazard runs down the right side of the fairway and even a bombed tee shot still leaves most players with a metal wood to the green.

Sharon Woods Golf Course is the park district's oldest course. It was designed by William Diddle and inaugurated by the legendary Bobby Jones in 1938. In fact, the ball he used is still displayed in the clubhouse. The 6,600-yard, par-70 layout offers a great balance of difficult and easier holes.

The top handicap hole is the extremely long par-4 No. 3 which plays 468 yards from the back tees. A booming drive still leaves a difficult and long approach usually struck from an uneven lie. The 221-yard No. 8 is a tremendous par 3. The perched tee boxes set up a dramatic elevation change with the green sitting way below. Watch out for the two greenside bunkers.

Sharon Woods has been awarded four stars by Golf Digest.

Opened in 1979, Shawnee Lookout Golf Course easily ranks as one of the Tri-state's most scenic layouts. The course was carved through a wooded hilltop and gives players breathtaking views of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. The greens are very fast and undulating, so golfers need to leave their approach shots below the hole if possible.

The signature hole is No. 5, a 159-yard par 3 that requires players to carry a pond located in front of the green. The most difficult hole at Shawnee Lookout is the long 432-yard, par-4 No. 16. The target area off the tee is very narrow and slopes severely from right to left. The approach, which is played from a sidehill lie, is to an elevated green. The par-5 No. 15 is relatively short but a double dogleg design keeps most players from reaching the green in two.

Totally renovated in 1993, The Mill Course first opened in 1951. The layout offers sculpted bent grass fairways, lots of mounding and five ponds. A distinctive clubhouse — Mill Race Banquet Center — offers party and reception capability that makes the facility idea for golf outings.

The signature hole is the par-3 No. 8. It plays over 200 yards with a large lake set precariously in front of the green. The 305-yard No. 12 is a great short par 4 that offers long hitters a risk-reward opportunity. Golfers trying to reach the green off the tee have to shave off the right corner of the dogleg and clear the water hazard. The safer route is to the middle of the generous fairway at the turn, setting up an easy wedge approach.

The Vineyard is HCPD's crown jewel. Designed by Jack Kidwell and Dr. Hurdzan, the facility is marketed as Cincinnati's "hometown golf resort." The layout was sculpted from soft, rolling meadows and lined by dense woods. Three ponds and meticulously groomed tees, fairways and greens compare favorably with the finest country clubs.

The par-3 No. 14 calls for a full carry over a pond to reach the green some 215 yards away. The 536-yard, par-5 No. 10 is no pushover, either. The entire hole is bordered on both sides by trees and the green is nearly circled by sand bunkers.

The Vineyard is rated four-and-a-half stars by Golf Digest and has been ranked as one of the top 10 public courses in Ohio.

Black Brook

Lake County OH

Black Brook was designed in 1929 by Bertie Way — undoubtedly the coolest name in the history of golf course architecture. He was the same man credited with the South Course at Firestone and the Detroit Golf Club. So you know this layout is good. Really good.

Purchased by the City of Mentor in 2005, the facility now operates as a municipal course but with a decided upscale feel. The recently renovated clubhouse features a fully-stocked pro shop and snack bar, and there's a pavilion available for catered outings. A new practice center has also been added with a large tee area, target greens and a practice bunker.

Unlike many of the courses designed in the first half of the century, the greens at Black Brook are actually quite large. Still, it's important to bring a sharp iron game if you hope to have makeable birdie or par putts.

Black Brook was voted the area's "Best Golf Course" last year in the News-Herald Reader's Choice Awards.

The Links at Echo Springs

Licking County OH

The Links at Echo Springs is a truly unique and challenging Barry Serafin designed course in Johnstown. It is blessed with natural rolling terrain cut through mature hardwood forests with just the right blend of links style to provide a sensational golfing experience.

In a series of outstanding holes, several stand out.

The par-4 No. 5 is the top handicap hole at Echo Springs. It features a sharp 90-degree dogleg right which rewards well-placed tee shots with an open look at the well-protected green.

Big hitters get a little extra help at the par-5 No. 6 as the tee shot is played downhill. Strike it well and reaching the green in two is a good possibility.

Number 17 is a tough par 3 which features a test off the tee with water lining the right side. Various pin placements force golfers to choose the best way to play the hole with two distinct risk-reward options.

Echo Springs ends with a difficult par 4 that plays into a prevailing wind. Water lines the left side of the hole and players must strike their approach shot — usually a long iron — through a narrow alley to the green.

Most of the greens at Echo Springs are large, multi-tiered and fast. So take a few extra minutes on the putting green before stepping up to the first tee.

Detwiler Park

Lucas County OH

In 1937, George and Abraham Detwiler Estate donated 311 acres of land to the City of Toledo to be used as park land. More than 30 years later, that property once inhabited by the Ottawa and Pottawatamis Indian tribes would be chosen as the site for a public golf course — the first to be built in the Toledo area in nearly 50 years. Fast forward to today and Detwiler Park remains one of renowned golf architect Arthur Hills' first and best designs.

Located on 177 rolling acres, the course with its beautiful mature trees sits along the Maumee Bay and adjacent to Point Place lighthouse. As a result, the layout has a distinct lakeside feel as you make your way around the course.

The championship character of Detwiler Park is evident from the very first tee. In fact, the course has been the host site of the annual Toledo Amateur Championship since 1983.

Playing just under 6,500 yards from the back tees, the par-71 layout features wide contoured fairways that play to large, well-manicured greens. Strategically placed ponds bring water into play often. The ability to keep tee and approach shots "under the wind" is a key element to scoring well.

The signature hole is No. 11, a 190-yard par 3 which includes a shallow green with water to the left. The prudent tee shot is to the right side away from the greenside bunkers.

Detwiler Park is now part of the Toledo Traditions of Golf which is managed by Master Golf and includes South Toledo GC, Ottawa Park GC and Collins Park.

Collins Park

Lucas County OH

S.P. Jermain touched several important golf venues in his lifetime. First it was Ottawa Park in the 1890s, then it was Inverness as its first president and finally Collins Park in 1932. Known as the father of Toledo's park system and golf courses, Jermain would be glad to know his "baby" is now in good hands.

Master Golf Management now operates the three city layouts. And one of the company's immediate goals is to return Collins Park to its former status as one of the area's top nine-hole layouts.

The layout measures just over 3,000 yards and in its heyday was referred to as Collins Park Country Club and sometimes "Inverness East." Beautiful hardwoods line much of the course. Most of the greens are open in front which allows great flexibility on approach shots.

Wildfire Golf Club

Muskingum County OH

Wildfire Golf Club in New Concord made its debut in 1966. The scenic 5,900-yard, par-71 layout is quite hilly with tree-lined fairways and three ponds that come into play.

The signature hole at Wildfire is No. 10, a 485-yard par 5 with a double dogleg fairway and requiring a shot over water. It's a great risk-reward hole that regulars have affectionately nicknamed "Nightmare on Friendship Drive."

While not particularly long, the course has more than its fair share of interesting holes. Because of the terrain, many of the greens are perched or elevated which can lead to some very interesting approach shots.

Wildfire is known for its excellent greens and reasonable rates. It is also a very popular site for leagues, outings and tournaments.

Flying "B" Golf Course

Mahoning County OH

Flying "B" might just be the best-kept golf secret in northeast Ohio. Owned and operated by the Ritchie family for 50 years, the 6,288-yard layout has kept its down-home charm while also offering a challenging round of play. It has also gained a reputation as one of most beautiful and well-maintained courses in the state, which keeps those fortunate enough to have discovered it coming back again and again.

The course is well known for its version of "Amen Corner" which begins at the signature 332-yard, par-4 No. 10. A straight drive of 250 yards or so will leave your ball just in front of a large lake at the end of the fairway. The better tee shot, though, is to hug the tree line on the left which will leave you in a better position to attack the tough, narrow, undulating and elevated green. The green is protected on the right by a lake and on the left by a 25 foot embankment.

The 11th hole is played 208 yards uphill to a nearly blind flagstick. Your last prayer is said at No. 12, a severe dogleg right par 4 that's played through a narrow, tree-lined fairway.

Other holes at Flying "B" present their own unique hazards.

The 377-yard, par-4 No. 9, for example, includes a 100-year-old maple tree situated squarely in the middle of the fairway. A perfect drive of 250 yards down the middle of the short grass will likely leave a blocked look at the green.

One of the most interesting holes is the underrated 500-yard, par-5 No. 4. This hole is a swooping dogleg left with out-of-bounds stakes. A big tee shot is needed to reach the corner of the bend. Come up short and you're left with a tricky second shot over the trees to break the dogleg.

Flying "B" has been listed in Golf Digest as one of its "Diamonds in the Rough" and has been the recipient of numerous local and regional awards.

It's more than worth a drive to Salem to see what all the buzz is about.

The Club at Yankee Trace

Montgomery County OH

Yankee Trace is arguably the finest public golf facility in southwest Ohio. Owned and operated by the City of Centerville, the championship 27-hole course features a showpiece 32,000 sq. ft. native limestone clubhouse that includes a restaurant, banquet center, pro shop and indoor practice area. Services are provided throughout the facility that are typically reserved for only the finest private country clubs.

The former site of the Nationwide Tour's Dayton Open, the course has been named one of the top 10 municipal layouts in the United States and has been awarded a coveted four-and-a-half stars by Golf Digest. And for good reason. The course is manicured to perfection, challenging and fun to play — especially if you like left-to-right doglegs.

Score well early because the last four holes can take a toll on your scorecard.

Number 17 is the toughest hole at Yankee Trace. Its a par-4 dogleg left with a marshy area right at the turn where most players would expect a well-struck drive to end up. The final hole is a 564-yard par 5 with water along the right side of the fairway.

The signature hole is No. 8, a 464-yard par 4 that requires a long carry usually into a head wind and over water. Number 15 is the only hole at Yankee Trace without a sand bunker.

Yankee Trace was recently voted the Dayton Daily News' "Best Course in Dayton" for the sixth consecutive year.

Boulder Creek Golf Club

Portage County OH

Boulder Creek is built on 220 acres of spectacular land that was the end result of the Ice Age. Over 100 feet of elevation changes and the unique contour of the property make it one of the most beautiful golf courses in Ohio. The cascading waterfall and bridge adjacent to the par-3 No. 7 are just two of the scenic wonders that make a round here an unforgettable experience.

Every person who loves golf has two dreams — to play on the PGA TOUR and to design and build a golf course. Joe Salemi, architect and owner of Boulder Creek, concentrated all of his efforts on accomplishing the latter. And boy did he succeed.

Basing his design on the writings of such architects as Alister MacKenzie, A.W. Tillinghast, Donald Ross and Tom Fazio, Salemi routed Boulder Creek through the densely forested property confident in the fact that he had found his niche. That his first project would be selected as the eighth "Best New Upscale Courses" in America by Golf Digest and "#3 Public Course in Ohio" by Golfweek probably never crossed his mind.

But holes like the par-3 No. 17 make it easy to justify the accolades. Golfers tee off from a high shelf that drops almost 100 feet to a green completely surrounded by water some 175 yards away. And then there's No. 9, a long par 4 that plays through a narrow tree-lined chute followed by an approach to a lake-guarded green.

Every inch of Boulder Creek was painstakingly built to take full advantage of the natural features and topography. The end result is a series of 18 remarkable golf holes with no disappointments in between.

Maplecrest Golf Club

Portage County OH

Maplecrest was built in 1928 in the rolling hills of northeast Ohio. Through the years, it has undergone many advancements and improvements and now is one of the highest rated public layouts in the state.

The 6,132-yard course boasts wonderful tree-lined fairways, landscaping and added aesthetic touches that help set in apart from other public tracks. In fact, Maplecrest has its own green houses on site where all of the plants, shrubs, flowers and trees used to decorate the layout are grown.

Water hazards come into play on four holes. The average-sized greens run fast and are well protected by sand bunkers.

The Shelby Country Club

Richland County OH

In 1928 Boyd Wierman drew up blueprints for a nine-hole course to be located on the Isaac Bricker farm. Three months later, The Shelby Country Club opened for private play. A lot has changed since then including the addition of a second nine in 1964 by architect Ben Zink. But the spirit of those early days still prevails.

The par-72 layout features a great collection of both classic and modern-style holes. The signature hole is the 509-yard No. 11, a great par 5 that plays down a narrow corridor. Golfers must avoid a water hazard on the left side and then somehow hit their approach around or over a 100-year-old oak tree that sits in the middle of the fairway as you near the green.

Perhaps the most difficult hole is No. 15, a long 450-yard par 4 that doglegs to the right. There's out-of-bounds markers on the left and wooded rough on the right. The approach must miss the water that curls around the right side of the green.

Lyons Den Golf

Stark County OH

Family owned Lyons Den Golf offers an affordable golf experience that boasts one of the most challenging finishing holes in the Stark County area. The 407-yard par 4 includes twin landscaped rock formations in the fairway that must be avoided off the tee followed by a downhill approach over water to a small green.

ample, measures just 360 yards and was purposely designed so that folks could have at least one shot at eagle in their lifetime.

Designed by “Old” Bill Lyons — once the superintendent at Firestone Country Club — in 1962, the family-owned facility also includes holes such as “Devils Gulch,” “The Barn Hole” and “Cemetery Ridge” to keep players on their toes.

Lyons Den is actually two nine-hole courses. The front is named the North Course (or Lyons Den #1) and the back is named the South Course (or Lyons Den #3). So what about Lyons Den #2? That would be in Taiwan. It’s a war story best told on the course’s website.

From the mowed, criss-crossed fairways to the impeccable greens and overly friendly staff, Lyons Den does everything right. While challenging enough for even the best players, the 5,700-yard layout seems to “give” more than it “takes.” The par-5 No. 2, for ex-

Spring Valley Golf Course

Stark County OH

Spring Valley is located just minutes from Canton in a wooded setting among the natural wildlife in the area. It’s likely you will run into a deer, wild turkey or perhaps even a fox during your round. But don’t worry. They usually allow faster groups to play through.

At just over 6,200 yards from the back tees, Spring Valley may not be the longest course you’ve played. But it will challenge your golfing skills. The layout’s hilly terrain, wooded fairways, water hazards and rolling greens will have you using every club in your bag.

The course was built in 1964 as a nine holer. After many different owners, it was purchased in 1991 by Don Sweitzer. Under his direction, the course has seen many changes and upgrades including the expansion to 18 holes.

Fairways at Arrowhead

Stark County OH

The Fairways at Arrowhead opened in 1948 as a private country club. Measuring just over 6,300 yards, the course is a tale of two sides. The front is longer and tighter with thick strands of trees pinching the fairways. The back is more open but played on hilly terrain.

The greens are small, fast and well protected by sand bunkers. Water hazards come into play on two holes, including the difficult 397-yard, par-4 No. 2 and equally as challenging 393-yard No. 18.

The Elms Country Club

Stark County OH

Designed and built as a private facility in the 1920s, The Elms has undergone many improvements and renovations over the years that have transformed it into a thoroughly modern golf course all the while maintaining the classic style of its origin.

The layout features classically-styled angular greens along with generous and gentle manicured fairways, scenic panoramic lakes and expanded tee box areas that push the course to a tournament tough 6,850 yards. In fact, The Elms is home to one of the state’s most prestigious tournaments — the Tiger-town Open — which annually draws more than 180 of the top professionals and amateurs throughout the region.

Located just west of Massillon and easily accessible from Canton, Akron and Cleveland, The Elms prides itself on providing the finest in golf and hospitality. The 27-hole facility can accommodate groups and outings of all sizes and features a renovated clubhouse that includes a grill and bar, locker rooms and pro shop as well as banquet areas for up to 300 people.

Barberton Brookside Country Club

Summit County OH

Exciting. Challenging. Rewarding. These are just a few of the superlatives associated with Baberton Brookside Country Club, one of Ohio’s finest 18-hole courses. Easily accessible from Akron, Canton and Cleveland, the 6,650-yard layout features slick greens, challenging par 3s and some very demanding par 5s.

Built in a scenic park-like setting, Barberton Brookside traces its history all the way back to 1921. Water comes into play on four holes including the par-5, 518-yard No. 8 — the course’s top handicap hole. The tee shot needs to hug the right side of the fairway away from the pond on the left. Golfers then have the option of laying up or trying to fly a finger of the lake which protections the front of the green.

Like most classic designs, the greens at Barberton Brookside are small and undulating. This puts a premium on club selection and accuracy on approach shots. Thankfully, there are no hidden hazards to worry about when you take aim at the flag.

In addition to its spectacular course, Barberton Brookside is a popular site for weddings, banquets and business meetings.

The club also annually hosts the Northern Ohio Sectional, a testimony to the quality of the course and facility.

Yankee Run Golf Course*Trumbull County OH*

Golfers will find a golf experience that is challenging yet relaxing at Yankee Run. The picturesque layout of the 80-year-old course in northeast Ohio is a beauty to behold and a pleasure to play.

For three generations the McMullin family has operated Yankee Run. The mature, superbly maintained facility is set on 150 acres of rolling terrain. It consistently ranks as one of the country's best public golf courses and has received a coveted four-and-a-half star rating from Golf Digest.

The signature hole on the 6,534-yard, par-70 layout is the medium length No. 10. Viewable from the road as you drive in and pictured on the course's scorecard, this par 4 can be played with anything from a driver to a mid-iron off the tee. If short of the fairway bunkers, your second shot will be mid- to short-iron over the pond. Watch out for the small greenside bunkers that protect the flag.

The hardest hole is No. 18, a par that stretches more than 400 yards even from the front tees. The tee box is elevated and players much try to reach the second level of the two-tiered fairway. Hitting the sloping back-to-front green in regulation requires an approach of 200 yards or so.

With a wide fairway and plenty of open space to the right, the 506-yard opening hole might seem harmless enough from the tee box. And while some bigger hitters may be able to reach the green in two, most will want to lay up short of the creek in the valley. From there, it's only a short iron or wedge into the green.

Harmon Golf Club*Warren County OH*

Harmon Golf Club's amazing history dates all the way back to 1912. At the time, only five holes were constructed. The private course was eventually expanded to the nine holes that remain basically unchanged today.

The course, which is now owned by Harmon Civic Trust and operated by Southwest Golf Management, relaxed its membership policy along the way. But the "country club" feel still remains.

Best known for its deceiving greens, pot bunkers and unforgiving undulations, Harmon is a popular choice for both outings and former mini-tour players. In fact, one of its regular members, Jimmy Henderson, became somewhat of a Cincinnati celebrity when he beat the odds and qualified for the 2008 U.S. Open.

There are a number of markers and plaques on the course which signify its more famous holes. The par-4 No. 4, for example, is known as "Paul's Prison." Former member Paul Coates used to consistently hook his tee shots in the Warren Correctional Institute which runs adjacent to the hole.

The par-3 No. 9 was made famous by Paul Dermitt, who was known by the locals for failing to hit his tee shots far enough to get onto the green because of the hole's deceiving length. There's now a plaque on the tee that reads "Use enough club."

Warren County Armco Park*Warren County OH*

The scenic, 18-hole executive layout at Warren County Armco Park is meticulously maintained, offering stunning lakeside views, a variety of wildlife and a serene park setting.

The challenging 3,100-yard course is ideal for juniors, women, seniors and beginners, while also providing the perfect tonic for those looking to hone their short-game skills.

In addition to the sporty layout, Armco Park also has a driving range, practice chipping and putting green, and a well-stocked pro shop and snack bar.

Once the private playground for Armco employees, Warren County purchased the 310-acre park and golf course several years ago.

Riverside Golf ClubWarren County PA*

Founded in 1915, Riverside is one of America's oldest courses. Designed by the legendary William Baird, the course encompasses 242 acres of rolling, tree-lined fairways that provide plenty of beautiful vistas. Golfers will encounter a variety of cleverly placed hazards during their round, with nearly 50 sand traps and the property's six lakes coming into play.

So skillfully designed was the course that any player — from beginner to expert — can play here. It was built with walkers in mind, so there are no steep hills to trudge up and down.

Riverside is rated four stars by Golf Digest. The sprawling clubhouse includes a full-service pro shop, tastefully appointed lounge, and comprehensive banquet and conference facility. The practice facilities are also top shelf.

The layout plays from 5,286 to 6,334 yards. Containing five par 3s, four par 5s and nine par 4s, it is a very playable course from the regular tees and quite a challenge from the tips.

Riverside regularly hosts golf groups from throughout the Tri-state area of Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York. It's also a popular destination for golfers travelling from Canada.

An Eclectic Blend of Old and New...

The renovation of the course has been extensive, but its identity has been retained. The large majestic oak trees that defined many fairways still take on the same importance. While much of the layout will be recognizable to previous patrons, five new holes have been added to strengthen the layout. As in the past, play continues to occur both north and south of Cheshire Road in Delaware, OH, but a new tunnel now leads players from the front nine to the back nine. Welcome to the NEW Glenross Golf Club.

Fomerly Tanglewood Golf Course, the club is located only 10 miles north of I-270 off of US-23. The 6,600-yard par 70 layout features rolling fairways, undulating greens, fifty new sand bunkers, seven ponds and a natural creek. Acres of wetlands, natural grass areas and age-old trees further challenge golfers and enhance the overall playing experience.

Flagg Springs

Flagg Springs was founded in 1997 by a small group of investors interested in the game of golf. Their vision and strong desire transformed land originally used as a dairy farm into what many now consider one of northern Kentucky's finest courses.

From the onset of the club, many amenities have been available to the avid golfer as well as the recreational player.

Flagg Springs boasts as having the only bent grass practice facility for public use in the area.

But it's the exceptional layout at Flagg Springs that really sets this course apart. In particular are the par 3s highlighted by No. 11 — arguably the most difficult short hole in the state. Moderate elevation changes throughout the property allowed course designer Allen Arhman plenty of room for creativity off the tees and around the greens.

Situated one mile from the picturesque Ohio River and twenty miles from downtown Cincinnati, the front and back nines are entirely different. The opening loop features flat, links-style holes with more water hazards in play while the second nine is played up and over more hilly terrain.

Flagg Springs has been home to the Northern Kentucky Men's Amateur as well as the Northern Kentucky Junior and Senior Amateurs since its inception.

Campbell County KY

Griffin Gate

The rolling green meadows of Kentucky have long been admired for their fabled horse farms. Set among this world-famous equine breeding ground is Griffin, complete with its own impressive bloodlines. Renowned architect Rees Jones sculpted this very fast track from the rolling hills of bluegrass country.

The course is the centerpiece of the 250-acre Griffin Gate Marriott Resort & Spa that embodies the tradition of Southern Hospitality.

Stretching nearly 6,800 yards from the tips, the par-72 layout has received a coveted four-star rating from Golf Digest as well as being recognized as one of the magazine's "Best Places to Play." One round and you will understand what all the fuss is about.

Griffin Gate challenges beginners and professionals, alike. With gaping bunkers guarding every green, water in play on 12 holes and few flat putts, shooting a career score is probably out of the question. But the expansive bent grass fairways do make inviting targets for those who sometimes struggle a bit off the tee.

Watch out for the par-5 No. 10, arguably the course's signature hole. Water comes into play on every shot. Wind can also play a major factor.

The course hosted the Bank One Senior Classic from 1983-'89 and remains one of the state's best public layouts.

Jessamine County KY

Located in the scenic central Kentucky bluegrass region, Planter's Row Golf Links features an 18-hole, 2,704-yard executive layout that is second to none in quality and challenge.

The "Little Monster" as the course is nicknamed features holes with a wide variety of difficulty and length. Because of this, it offers a genuine challenge for golfers of all skill levels — it is ideal for the beginner who feels intimidated by a full-length course; it gives the average player the opportunity to hone his target skills; and it truly challenges skilled golfers to score below par.

Planter's Row spent the winter months undergoing several major projects. One of the biggest improvements golfers will notice this year is the reseeded initiative. A special blend of grasses was used on the greens making them softer and more receptive to high-lofted shots.

In addition to the lovely course, Planter's Row prides itself on being one of the top player development facilities in the state. A 20-stall Bermuda grass driving range with nine heated/covered stalls, a practice putting green and a short game area are just some of the amenities on site.

Maple Grove

Monroe MI

Maple Grove located in Lambertville offers golfers the best of both worlds. For beginners and those who just want to work on their short game, there's a sporty nine-hole executive layout that measures just under 1,300 yards. Or you can step up to the tee on the facility's regulation-length course that offers just the right balance between moderate and challenging holes.

Both of the well-maintained, scenic and fully-watered layouts were designed in 1975 by Richard Kimble who still owns and operates Maple Grove. It's a friendly, down home type of facility where regulars and newcomers, alike, are treated like family.

In addition to the two courses, players can also take advantage of Maple Grove's extensive practice amenities which include a large 6,000 sq. ft. practice green and 50-station driving range. Lessons are also available.

The signature hole is the 372-yard No. 6, a very demanding par 4 that doglegs to the right. A solid tee shot should leave you no more than 150 yards out with a short iron in your hand and a clear view of the target. And what a sight it is. A creek and pond guard the front of the elongated green which is framed by two large oak trees. Make par here and you will likely pick up a couple of strokes on your playing partners.

The executive layout also has its share of challenging holes. Number 8, for example, stretches 180 yards. Mature trees line the narrow fairway with a pond positioned in front of the right side of the green.

Make sure to stick around after your round and enjoy a bite to eat and celebratory brew in the clubhouse lounge. It's the perfect ending to a fun day on the links.

Raisin River Golf Club

Monroe MI

This privately owned public facility features two outstanding 18-hole layouts along with a complete practice facility. It is one of Monroe County's most established and southeast Michigan's finest resort-style golfing destinations.

The West Course opened for play nearly 50 years ago. Measuring 6,100 yards, the par-70 layout offers narrower fairways and heavily-trapped greens. The total yardage can be a little deceiving because the layout features six par 3s. Designed with both the average and scratch player in mind, the West 18 has a great balance of water and sand.

The East Course, designed by William Maddox, made its debut in 1977. It features all the hallmarks of Michigan golf. Played from the tips, the par-71 design covers nearly 7,000 yards and can be a daunting challenge for even the longest hitter. This is the type of course you see on television — mammoth undulating greens, wooded holes, water in play on 15 holes and gently sloping fairways. The East 18 is truly a tournament caliber test.

Whiteford Valley Golf Club

Monroe MI

Whiteford Valley has the rare distinction of offering players four distinct 18-hole layouts. Located just two miles north of Toledo and the Ohio/Michigan line, the North, East, South and West Courses were carefully crafted to challenge players in different ways. Along the way you'll find meandering creeks, demanding hazards, tree-lined doglegs, rolling terrain and a few more surprises as you navigate your way around any of the four courses.

Harley Hodges was the architect of the original North Course which opened in 1968. Stretching over 6,800 yards, the layout features rolling terrain and many mature trees. A large creek runs through several holes helping to heighten the challenge.

The East Course opened in 1995. The 6,609-yarder was literally cut through strands of tall trees. It, too, has a large creek meandering through it. The layout demands accuracy and you'll use every club in your bag before you're finished.

Whiteford Valley
GOLF CLUB

Choose the South Course and you'll think you're playing two different layouts. The front nine has several tree-lined doglegs while the back is more wide open. The greens on the back are also much more undulating.

The West Course was also one of the original layouts at Whiteford Valley. It is the longest of the four courses at over 7,000 yards. Lined with mature trees, many of the holes traverse rolling terrain. This is not a layout to be taken lightly.
